FAMILIES ENCOURAGED TO BECOME INVOLVED

In the August newsletter, we told you about an Immersion Program that has recently been set up at Brother Benno's. It allows people to interact one-on-one with our Guests in order to get a better understanding of what it means to be poor and/or homeless. After a tour of the Center and an overview of our philosophy and our services, participants get in the food line, then eat with Guests, where they often discover that there really isn't much difference between those who serve and those who receive services.

Harold Kutler is extending his invitation to be part of this Program to families in order to help young people, especially teens, learn about poverty. It has been our experience that many of them are eager to help, once they discover the many ways they can be of service.

Children under 18 can volunteer at the Center only if they do so with a parent or other adult, but all kids can participate by putting on collection drives at their school or neighborhood. It's been amazing to see how many socks, underwear, toiletries, or food staples they can gather from family, friends, schoolmates, and neighbors. We also welcome creative ideas for new ways to be of service to others.

If you'd like more information about the Immersion Program, please contact Dennis (760-439-1244, ext. 116, or dennispinnick@yahoo.com). If you'd like to schedule a Saturday morning tour and immersion, contact Suzy (760-439-1244, ext. 118, or suzymartinek@brotherbenno.org).

NEW CONVENIENCE AT THRIFT SHOP

by Helen Parsons

Brother Benno's Thrift Shop in Oceanside has a 15-foot white box truck that sits in the parking lot in front of the Shop to collect donations every day from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Someone will be there to help unload your heavy objects.

We have a big sign on the truck to attract your attention; but if you miss it somehow, there's a sign on the back gate asking you to bring your donations to the truck. If you miss that sign, you'll see another one on the back door.

Our devoted staff, under the direction of our Manager, Michelle Hoppe, and Assistant Manager Mary Yett, are continuously finding ways to attract customers and keep us competitive with Goodwill. Christie Sahhar, our Cashier, reminds customers about using the donations truck, and T.S. is manning the truck. All our faithful volunteers are working harder than ever to make sure our neediest customers are provided for.

Remember, we're open every Wednesday evening until 7 p.m. You'll receive a 20 percent discount on almost everything and will be treated to refreshments.

We're located at 3965 Mission Avenue east of Albertson's in Oceanside. Please come shop and see our amazing inventory!

EXPERIENCING THE BROTHER BENNO SCENE

by Barbara Ladwig

Kudos to the Police. One morning, Harold Kutler saw two police cars drive into the parking area next to the Center. Concerned about what their presence might mean, he left his office to check.

The officer in one car was helping a woman and her three small children exit the car; a man and another officer got out of the other one. "We found these people sleeping under the freeway," one officer reported. "Obviously, they need help."

Harold took them into the Center and asked the kitchen crew to give them something to eat. Kathy, who works at the front desk, went into the Clothing Room to find some things for the children. They learned that the man was the woman's boyfriend, and they had arrived in Oceanside with one suitcase and no money. They also found out that they had left their home in Northern California after a disagreement with the woman's family.

Brother Benno's gave the woman a two-night motel voucher for herself and her children, and suggested she contact her family and ask them to help her return home. "We urged her to call us if that didn't work out," Harold said. "She didn't call, so we're assuming that they are back where they belong."

The icing on the cake came when one of the police officers returned to Brother Benno's the day after he'd dropped them off to find out what had happened to them. Harold gave him the name of the motel they were staying at, and the officer said he'd drop in to see if they were OK.

Hand-Crafted Care. The vast majority of Brother Benno supporters are unknown to me, but every once in a while I get to experience the goodness of someone I know. Such is the case with my son Tom's girlfriend Shoshana. She lives in San Diego and never heard of Brother Benno's until she and I met. One day she brought me a bagful of soft, warm hats she had crocheted and asked me to take them to the Center. A couple months later, she did the same—this time it was a beautiful sweater. Mary Robinson said she'd make sure the recipients of these gifts would know that they were hand-made by someone who cared.

Frontiersmen? New volunteer Dave Crockett was quickly introduced to Dan Boone, long-time Board member and head of the Accounting Office. "Now all we need is Jim Bowie," someone quipped.

KNITTERS FILL VOID, HOPE OTHERS DO THE SAME

Jean McMath volunteers in Brother Benno's Clothing Room, and she noticed last winter that we had very few scarves to give to our Guests. "I've been a knitter for a long time and love simple projects," she said, "so I proposed to the Prayer Shawl Ministry at the First Presbyterian Church in Oceanside that we make it a summer project to knit scarves."

The group's initial goal was 25 scarves, but they already have more than 50. Jean is hoping there are others out there who like to knit or crochet and would be willing to make scarves, and even hats. She also suggests that people who are no longer able to do this handiwork because of arthritis or whatever, but still have yarn, would like to donate it.

Jean adds, "The general description for the scarves is 7-8 inches wide, 60-64 inches long. I use a #13 needle and need about 23-25 stitches. The yarn should be "4" or "5" weight to get something substantial. Simple works best, as the scarves will probably get rough treatment. . . Most of the homeless who come to the Clothing Room are men. . . but I have hopes of getting some prettier scarves for women and children for the holiday season."

All donations of knit goods and yarn can be dropped off at the rear of the Center with the bag clearly marked CLOTHING ROOM. If you have any questions, please call Jean (760-722-4003).

VOLUNTEERS BENEFIT WORKING AT BROTHER BENNO'S

Volunteers at Brother Benno's fulfill a need; that's a given. But what is not always known is that the volunteer may have a need himself that can be fulfilled just by his being there.

Two young men, both extremely shy, came to our Center to do a job. Eighteen-year-old "Mike" was actually brought in by his parents, who were concerned that his difficulty interacting with others would hinder his ability to get a job. "Bert" came by way of another volunteer who saw that his abilities were being overshadowed by his shyness.

In just a few months, Mike has gone from a young man who looked down at the floor every time someone approached him, to one who can now look people in the face, ask questions, and even carry on a good conversation with a select few. "We're just going at his pace," said P., who oversees Mike's work in the kitchen. "He has come so far already; it's a miracle."

Bert has been at the Center about eight months, and his area of expertise is refinishing furniture. "He learned a lot from D. (former Program Member)," said Thomas, who runs the Furniture Warehouse, "and he keeps improving on his own." Each piece of Bert's handiwork bears a tag that reads: "This treasure has been refinished by loving hands at Brother Benno's."

We are not in the "therapy business." If someone sees that professional help is needed, that avenue is pursued. But what we can do with the Mikes and Berts who come our way is to give them the one-on-one care and attention that will at least make their lives more comfortable. And while we're doing that, they are providing needed services.

Many volunteers and staff members at the Center have already made a big difference in the lives of these two young men. Harold Kutler echoed P.'s sentiments when commenting on Mike. "He's one of our miracles," he said.

ROSES AND RASPBERRIES *

by Helen Parsons

Recently a very special lady left us at Brother Benno's to spend time with family and to heal from a lingering illness. Helene McGill devoted many years to Brother Benno's, actively involved in our Auxiliary and as Harold Kutler's personal assistant. Helene was always the first to lend an extra hand, send a special card, and offer prayers for those in need. We want her to know that her quiet departure did not go unnoticed! Helene, you are a very special lady and will be deeply missed. A dozen roses to you!

Raspberries to whoever stole a magnetic Brother Benno Thrift Shop sign from a car parked at the Shop. This person also ripped down arrows that were pointing to the special event at the Shop!

Get-well roses to Charlotte Wilson who is recovering from a recent illness, and to Pat Kouns who has ongoing health problems—both faithful Auxiliary members. You are missed!

Roses to Genentech Corporation for donating five bikes to five very excited children at the backpack giveaway event in August. Thank you for all your generosity, Genentech!

Roses to Clare Fisher a faithful teacher in our Reading Room for more than two years. She has given so many children an unwavering dose of love every third Saturday! Clare is pursuing a career in Special Education. We wish her all the best!

One more bunch of roses for Hanna Martinek for turning our dining room into a beautiful rose garden, bringing much cheer to our guests! It makes everyone smile!!
